

Climate Change? Food Safety? Food Security?

A FREE One Day Symposium to Kick Off the 10th Anniversary
North American Pollinator Protection Campaign International Conference

Pollinators and North American Priorities

Why Pollinators Matter: Benefits, Challenges, and Outcomes

Wednesday, October 20, 2010

9:00am – 4:30pm

U.S. Department of Agriculture, Jefferson Auditorium, Washington, DC

More than 15 Speakers Including:

May Berenbaum, Ph.D., Chair NAS NRC
Study of Pollinators of North America, University of Illinois

Rev. Richard Cizik, President, The New Evangelical Partnership for the Common Good (as heard on NPR's Fresh Air)

Sec. A.G. Kawamura, Secretary of California
Department of Food and Agriculture

Mark Moffett, Ph.D., Author, Speaker and Scientist, National Museum of Natural History (as seen on The Colbert Report)

And more! To view a full list of speakers, visit www.pollinator.org/nappc/agenda.htm

A reception to follow with pollinated appetizers.

Who Should Attend?

- Scientists, researchers, conservationists, government officials, educators, farmers, ranchers, private industry, NGO's and dedicated volunteers from the U.S., Mexico and Canada are all welcome to attend the Open Symposium.

- The NAPPCC Open Symposium is open to everyone; the public, press and students.

- The NAPPCC Conference closed sessions are by invitation. If you would like to attend, please email your request to rsvp@pollinator.org.

This is your unique opportunity to get the latest insights on why pollinators matter, what you can do to help pollinators and, what are the benefits, challenges and outcomes anticipated across the continent in the next decade.

RSVP now at www.nappc.org.

Space is limited!

NAPPCC
TEN
2010

